NOTE 2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Accounting Basis

These condensed interim financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. They do not include all information and footnotes required by United States generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. However, except as disclosed herein, there have been no material changes in the information disclosed in the notes to the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2017 included in the Company's Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The condensed interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with those financial statements included in the Form 10-K. In the opinion of Management, all adjustments considered necessary for a fair presentation, consisting solely of normal recurring adjustments, have been made. Operating results for the six months ended September 30, 2017 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending March 31, 2018.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are reported in the balance sheet at cost, which approximates fair value. For the purpose of the financial statements, cash equivalents include all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased.

Earnings (Loss) per Share

The Company adopted FASB ASC 260, Earnings per Share. Basic earnings (loss) per share is calculated by dividing the Company's net income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings (loss) per share is calculated by dividing the Company's net loss available to common shareholders by the diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period. The diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding is the basic weighted number of shares adjusted as of the first of the year for any potentially dilutive debt or equity. There were no dilutive or potentially dilutive shares outstanding for all periods presented.

5

Income Taxes

The Company adopted FASB ASC 740, Income Taxes, at its inception. Under FASB ASC 740, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets, including tax loss and credit carryforwards, and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. Deferred income tax expense represents the change during the period in the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities. The components of the deferred tax assets and liabilities are individually classified as current and non-current based on their characteristics. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. A full valuation allowance was used and no deferred tax assets or liabilities were recognized as of September 30, 2017 and March 31, 2017, respectively.

Fair Value of Financial Investments

The fair value of cash and cash equivalents, accounts payable, accrued liabilities, and notes payable approximates the carrying amount of these financial instruments due to their short term maturity.

Advertising

The Company will expense advertising as incurred. Advertising expense was $0 and $249 for the three months and for the six months ended September 30, 2017 and $0 and $0 for the three months and for the six months ended September 30, 2016, respectively.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue and Cost Recognition

The Company has no current source of revenue; therefore, the Company has not yet adopted any policy regarding the recognition of revenue or cost.

Related Parties

Related parties, which can be a corporation, individual, investor or another entity are considered to be related if the party has the ability, directly or indirectly, to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the Company in making financial and operating decisions. Companies are also considered to be related if they are subject to common control or common significant influence. The Company has these relationships.

Recent Authoritative Accounting Pronouncements

The Company has reviewed the Accounting Standards Updates through ASU No. 2017-10 and these updates have no current applicability to the Company or their effect on the financial statements would not have been significant.

NOTE 3. INCOME TAXES

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) has issued FASB ASC 740-10. This standard requires a company to determine whether it is more likely than not that a tax position will be sustained upon examination based upon the technical merits of the position. If the more-likely-than-not threshold is met, a company must measure the tax position to determine the amount to recognize in the financial statements. As a result of the implementation of this standard, the Company performed a review of its material tax positions in accordance with recognition and measurement standards established by FASB ASC 740-10, and did not have any material unrecognized tax benefits as of September 30, 2017 and March 31, 2017, respectively.

The Company files tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and the state of Florida. Our policy is to recognize interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions in income tax expense. During the six months ended September 30, 2017 and the year ended March 31, 2017, the Company did not recognize expense for interest or penalties related to income tax, and does not have any amounts accrued at September 30, 2017 and March 31, 2017, as the Company does not believe it has taken any uncertain tax positions.

Deferred taxes are provided on a liability method whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax basis. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of enactment.

At September 30, 2017, the Company had net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $1,017,869, which may be offset against future taxable income through 2037. No tax benefit has been reported in the financial statements because the potential tax benefits of the net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $356,254 are offset by a valuation allowance of the same amount. We are subject to taxation in the United States and the State of Florida. As of September 30, 2017, tax years for 2012 through 2016 are subject to examination by the tax authorities.

Due to the change in ownership provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, net operating loss carryforwards for Federal income tax reporting purposes are subject to annual limitations. As a result of the change in majority ownership, net operating loss carryforwards may be limited as to future use.

Plan of Operation

Jade Global Holdings intends to increase global awareness and ownership of jade globally. Until Jade Global Holdings’ entry into the global jade trade, there has been no centralized market for trading of jade and jade products. The traditional distribution channels involved working through purchasing agents, traveling around the world in search of inventory or purchasing finished jade jewelry products from often disreputable wholesalers. The Company intends to grow Jade Global Holdings into a vertically integrated global company that will comprise of international mining operations, jewelry design and manufacturing, Business-to-business (“B2B”) eCommerce wholesale trade, bricks and mortar membership only jade trading centers, global depository and one or more online jade trading platforms.

The Company believes that in order to educate and tempt buyers globally, it must maintain a modified storefront presence. Specifically, Jade Global Holdings intends to open showrooms in strategic locations around the world where it will display its products. All purchases would be completed via internet kiosks located in the showrooms. Jade Global Holdings’ intends to make its Jaedo® website and JadeExchange® trading platform accessible via these kiosks, and all products ordered would be drop shipped directly to the customer. The Company intends to follow a multi-stage strategy to increase awareness and increase sales of this precious stone.

1. The Company intends to build Membership Trade Centers in China, which will allow it to have a foothold, as well as to monitor trends, in the biggest market for jade in the world.

2. The Company plans to build the JadeExchange® global online trading platform, which will allow for collectors and investors to purchase partial ownership shares in Jade Units (JU’s), which, in turn, will own expensive museum quality collectors pieces.
3. The Company plans to open JadeUnit® centers in London, Dubai, Sydney and Toronto. These four world-renowned money centers will give us broad access to investors and traders who have an interest in jade. As necessary, the Company intends to open additional JadeUnit® centers to gain access to an even larger audience.
4. The Company plans to launch its Jaedo.com® B2B and B2C eCommerce website, which will allow its customers to not only purchase jade products, but also to sell it back in repurchase transactions, much like the spot market for gold and diamonds.

On July 20, 2017, Jade Global Holdings received approval from the PRC government to form a Wholly Foreign Owned Entity, or WFOE, in China which the Company plans to utilize to establish JV’s to open wholly-owned jade trading clubs in the People’s Republic of China. The shopping experience will be unlike that in any existing traditional retail jewelry store. Instead, Jade Global Holdings’ stores will include a retail showroom and a private viewing room with a museum-like setting displaying a rotating collection of museum quality pieces where patrons may examine or purchase higher value items. The Company intends to decorate in a tasteful blend of Western and Eastern aesthetics to appeal to all customers, while reminding customers of the Asian spirituality of Jade. As of September 30, 2017, the WFOE has not yet been formed and operations have not commenced.

In addition to the Company’s retail stores, Jade Global Holdings intends to also include VIP “back rooms” in its outlets, where suitably qualified customers can, by appointment only, view specific “Investment Grade” Jade jewelry pieces for purchase. The Company also intends to feature large TV monitors displaying our JadeShares® Online Trading Platform with live pricing and sales data. The lounges would have full VIP services and personal assistants to cater to the Company’s high net worth clients and would have armed guard security on duty at all times. Finally, the Company plans to build each showroom with an “educational area” with some “Gem Quality” Jade on display and Audio/Visual presentations of history of Jade and its importance in Chinese culture. The Company intends to set itself apart from other jade retailers in that it plans to not only sell jade and jade products, but buy them as well. Much like the spot market for other precious metals and stones, such as gold, platinum or diamonds, customers would have a guarantee that they will be able to sell their jade easily at market prices.

The Jade Global Holdings brand will endeavor to offer trendy, hip products for all ages. The Company plans to supply medium quality and high quality “designer” Jewelry to appeal to every taste. In addition to jewelry, the Company will also sell high quality and museum quality collectibles. Finally, the Company plans to sell bulk jade on a wholesale basis to jewelry designers, artisans, investors and collectors.

Jade Global Holdings plans to purchase jade from trusted supply chains located in the biggest jade producing regions of the world, including China, Korea and Canada. The Company also plans to purchase jade from customers as part of its Buyback Guarantee program, ensuring a constant stream of investment grade jade products in addition to the investment, high end and commercial grade jade and jade products purchased from resale through its wholesale channels.

Jade Global Holdings plans to utilize famous jewelry designers from around the world to create unique pieces of jewelry for all price points, as well as for mass production and resale through its wholesale business-to-business channels. Additionally, the Company intends to commission artisans to create valuable collectibles for sale on its Global Trading Platform and in its stores. Finally, the Company may employ jade jewelry designers in its stores who can create beautiful, one-of-a-kind custom Jewelry for its customers while they wait, giving them an added appreciation of the beautiful jade pieces being created.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We have no significant off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that are material to stockholders.

Critical Accounting Policies

Accounting Basis

Our financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our company's fiscal year end is March 31.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are reported in the balance sheet at cost, which approximates fair value. For the purpose of the financial statements cash equivalents include all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased.

Earnings (Loss) per Share

Our company adopted FASB ASC 260, Earnings per Share. Basic earnings (loss) per share is calculated by dividing our company's net income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings (loss) per share is calculated by dividing our company's net loss available to common shareholders by the diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period. The diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding is the basic weighted number of shares adjusted as of the first of the year for any potentially dilutive debt or equity. There were no dilutive or potentially dilutive shares outstanding for all periods presented.

Income Taxes

Our company adopted FASB ASC 740, Income Taxes, at its inception. Under FASB ASC 740, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets, including tax loss and credit carryforwards, and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. Deferred income tax expense represents the change during the period in the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities. The components of the deferred tax assets and liabilities are individually classified as current and non-current based on their characteristics. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance when, in the opinion of management, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. A full valuation allowance was used and no deferred tax assets or liabilities were recognized as of September 30, 2017 or March 31, 2017, respectively.

Fair Value of Financial Investments

The fair value of cash and cash equivalents, accounts payable, accrued liabilities, and notes payable approximates the carrying amount of these financial instruments due to their short-term maturity.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Related Parties

Related parties, which can be a corporation, individual, investor or another entity are considered to be related if the party has the ability, directly or indirectly, to control the other party or exercise significant influence over our company in making financial and operating decisions. Companies are also considered to be related if they are subject to common control or common significant influence. Our company has these relationships.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Our company has reviewed the Accounting Standards Updates through ASU No. 2016-17 and these updates have no current applicability to our company or their effect on the financial statements would not have been significant.
