EXHIBIT 99.1

Bantec Brings Interactive, Temperature Monitoring, UVC Robotic Cleaning Systems to the Covid-19 Fight

Little Falls, NJ – June 23, 2020 - Bantec, Inc. (OTCPINK: BANT) (“Bantec” or the “Company”), Bantec, Inc., a product and services company, announces that it expanded its offerings with CleanSmart. Bantec will now market and sell robotics that ultimately help businesses and building owners combat Covid-19. The robots possess the ability to communicate necessary Covid-19 messages to employees and customers, provide UVC light and spray disinfection, automatically dock and recharge, enable remote video calling, autonomously navigate, measure social distancing, and take people’s temperatures.

According to a BCC Research report from 2019, the global market for UV disinfection equipment is estimated to surpass $4 billion by 2023. This report does not include the exponential growth in the disinfection equipment market due to COVID-19. This global pandemic has created a massive increase in the demand for cleaning and monitoring equipment, and we believe that the new line of equipment from CleanSmart and Bantec is a perfect solution to help fill this need.

Michael Bannon, Bantec’s Chairman and CEO stated: “We are excited to bring robots to the Covid-19 fight. Imagine this: a customer walks into a bank and is greeted by a robot; the robot instructs the customer to maintain the proper social distance and determines whether or not the customer is wearing a mask while measuring the customer’s temperature. If the customer’s temperature is above normal and/or the customer is not wearing a mask, the robot will politely ask the customer to please leave the bank. If the customer’s temperature is normal and is wearing a mask, the robot will instruct the customer what to do next and inform the customer that there is a cleaning station nearby where the customer can sanitize his or her hands. During and after bank hours, the robots will clean surfaces and disinfect the bank interior with UVC light and spray disinfectant.”
